

Casey LaLonde is Joan Crawford's grandson and has dedicated his life to restoring his grandmother's reputation as a person and classic Hollywood icon. Through public appearances and interviews, Casey debunks the many myths surrounding Joan Crawford. Casey seeks to highlight his grandmother's major achievements while positively reflecting on her personal life.

Casey has appeared and spoken publicly about Joan Crawford at the TCM Film Festival, the TCM Classic Film Cruise, The Museum of Modern Art, the UCLA School of Theater, Film and Television and the Rehoboth Beach Film Festival. He appeared in the Fox Film Noir DVD edition of Daisy Kenyon in the documentary "Life in Shadows: the Making of Daisy Kenyon." Casey also appeared in The Discovery Channel production of "The Will: Family Secrets Revealed," detailing the legal issues surrounding his grandmother's last will and testament.

Casey LaLonde lives in suburban Philadelphia with his spouse Heather Shelhamer and works in public service.
