MEET THE AUTHOR –

Col. Sholly was born in Santa Fe, N.M. and raised in various U.S. National parks as the son of a Park Ranger and his school teacher wife. He later served two tours in Vietnam, the first of which is captured in this book. Command and staff assignments included a five-year period with the Defense Intelligence Agency. Other special assignments took him to the deserts of the Middle East, the mountains of Afghanistan and the plains and jungles of Africa, to name a few. He was a recipient of the Nobel Peace Prize as a member of the 1988 United Nations Peacekeeping Forces. His last military assignment was with the Center of Military History which involved the writing of the official histories of the U.S. Army. He began writing Young Soldiers Amazing Warriors after retiring from military and corporate life. He is currently an author and small businessman residing in Pearland, Texas.

Sholly is the Step-Father of Marshfield resident Keith Housholder.
