

Sharon Kizziah-Holmes became interested in writing romance novels in the early 1990's, which opened a whole new world for her. She now has three novels published, numerous short stories and many magazine articles. Not only does she love to write, she enjoys editing and teaching the basics of writing to others.

Her newest adventure is Paperback-Press Publishing. She founded this hybrid, indie assist publishing company to help independent authors become published. She has distributed everything from picture books to mainstream novels, children's books and audio books. Paperback-Press specializes in print, audio and e-books. She and her husband have a boutique recording studio in their home where they produce audio books, music CD's and more. For more information, you can find PBP on the web at www.paperback-press.com.

Sharon lives in Missouri with her husband and two Cocker Spaniels, Dude and Lacy. She's proud to call the beautiful Ozarks her home. www.skizstuff.com
